Ruddy's Review is published by Ruddy Investments, owned and operated by James F. and Nancy Ruddy. Our offices are on Hollywood Blvd. directly across from the famous "Grauman's Chinese Theatre". If you plan a visit in the Los Angeles area let us know and we will be happy to have you visit us.

We have some spectacular offerings for you! Two new outstanding collections were purchased recently and we reserved them exclusively for this issue. They will have not been advertised anywhere before you receive your copy of "Ruddy's Review" so that you may have "first choice". The first collection consists of the finest group of Bust and Liberty Seated half dollars I have handled in many a year. These coins are from an old-time collection and were purchased at a time when a gem BU was a gem BU.

Whether you need a particular date or a choice specimen for your type set, here is your opportunity to acquire the finest available.

The second collection we reserved for our mailing list customers is a beautiful type set which is almost complete from half cents to trade dollars. This collection together with our extensive stock of type coins (one of the largest in the country) enables us to offer you quality in quantity and the lowest possible price.

We have been very pleased, and we hope you have too, with the Master Charge credit buying plan. This "charge account" method enables a collector to acquire coins he wants when they become available even if he doesn't have the money at the time. It's so easy to do. With your order include all of the information that appears in raised print on your card (do not send your card). Your coins will be sent to you the very same day we receive your order.

The coin business is still going strong in the face of our country's economic situation. The reason for this is that many stock market investors have stopped putting money into the market and some of this money is going into sound investments in coins. Investors are tired of watching their stock investments evaporate day after day, week after week. The frustrating part about the over $100,000,000,000.00 (yes, that's 100 billion dollars) in losses that the owners of stock have suffered is that there is nothing the individual investor can do. When a fund, institution or any large holder of stock decided to sell and dumps it on the market the price can fall 20% or more overnight. There is never a worry about good numismatic material in this respect. There businessman.

HALF DOLLARS

This offering of half dollars is outstanding in the number of choice and gem Brilliant Uncirculated and Proof specimens. Many of these rare and beautiful pieces are available only once or twice a year throughout the entire numismatic world.

To clarify the difference between Gem BU, Choice BU, regular BU and BU, light rubbing I use the following criteria:

Gem BU - The finest obtainable, sharply struck and free of the usual minor bag marks and minting defects.

Choice BU - Superior to the average uncirculated specimen. Well struck with a minimum of minor bag or minting marks.

BU - Strictly Uncirculated with no wear or rubbing. Average strike for the period with average bag or minting marks. (Any abnormal bag or minting marks will be described.)

BU, light rubbing - A coin showing full mint luster that may have light rubbing on the cheek or knee from an album slide or envelope friction. This is not a "slider Unc." which has been treated in any way.

NOTE: Very often my regular BU will equal or better someone else's "Gem BU".

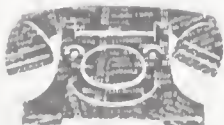

If toning appears on any coin it is guaranteed to be original and not artificial.

are no large hoards of Barber, Liberty Seated or earlier material to upset the true supply and demand pricing structure in numismatics. In fact all of the good material is becoming harder to find every month. The investor demand today is for quality material. Smart money is looking ahead to the near future when coins that are difficult to locate today for $50 to $100 will be impossible to find even at $250 to $500. We can point to the past thousands of illustrations of where this has actually happened. Wouldn't you like to be holding investment lots of Barber halves that you bought only 5 years ago for $17.50 each and that are now worth over $100 each! Or dimes quarters and halves in the 1820's and 1830's that are all worth 5 to 10 times their value of just 5 years ago.

If any reader has questions about what a good sound numismatic investment program would be, please drop me a note, or better yet, call me. My reputation and 16 years of numismatic experience is your assurance of knowledgeable and fair advise.

May we solicit your help? We are still trying to locate other specimens of the newly discovered 1888/7 Indian 1¢. Except for the two discovery pieces no other 1888/7 cents have come to light. If you know anyone who has a specimen please ask him to get in touch with us. We are offering a $25.00 reward to the first person who locates one.
